Foreword

In editing this volume of the Nolicucky, we have endeavored to portray the real spirit of U. C. H. S. We have not tried to make it the most expensive nor the most imposing annual ever edited, but just to help the students in after years to smile and sigh over the ups and downs of the year 1925.

Senior Class History

Having been chosen as historian of this class of 1924-25, I shall endeavor to give you the true facts about this valiant crew, who four years ago embarked upon the stormy voyage of life, on the ship Destiny, with the flag of black and gold flying from the mast-head.

On September 2, 1921, forty five members enrolled as the crew on the ship Destiny, bound for the port Fate, on the rough and troublesome sea of Knowledge. The ship of Destiny, because that is the only ship on which you may travel on the sea of Knowledge; the port Fate, because that is the only port to which this ship sails; the rough and troublesome sea of Knowledge, because that is the only route travel to the port to which our ship is bound.

Our voyages have been beset by many obstacles and dangers. We left out of port with Admiral Eutsler in command of the fleet, with Captain Harry Baughman in command of the valiant crew, First Mate Carl Harrison and officer of the Day, Hammond Penney.

With this staff of officers the ship Destiny sailed out upon the first voyage, bound for the port of Realization. On a bright and sunny morning in May our ship made the port of Realization. At this port we unloaded our cargo of carelessness and thoughtlessness and took on a cargo of hard work.

There ten members of the crew found some other vocation in life and three were married. This left us with a shortage in the crew for the voyage just ahead and no new members were signed on.

On August 18, 1922, the ship of Destiny sailed out of the port of Realization, bound for the port of Determination, under the same Admiral but with a change in the ships officers. Captain Theodore Masters was in command of the crew, with First Mate Mildred Boyd, and Officer of the Day, Cecil Barron. This voyage was the most dangerous of all with the cargo of hard work and a shortage in the crew. Enroute we passed the Island of the Cyclops, the Island of the Fiery Dragons, and last of all the Island inhabited by the Sirens.

In passing the Island inhabited by the Cyclops and the Fiery Dragons, we had many difficulties and hardships to keep our ship off the rocks. And in passing the Island of the Sirens, many of our crew listened to the beckoning voices of the Sirens and were almost induced to desert the ship for the joys and pleasures of life. But in the end good judgment overruled and the good ship Destiny sailed on into the port of Determination. Here we lay for a short period of time recoaling and supplying the ship.

While in port we lost three more members of the crew, but signed on four new ones. And on September 4, 1923, we set sail again, with Admiral Eutsler still in command, but another change in the ship's officers. The ship's officers were Captain Carl Harrison, First Mate Harry Baughman and Officer of the Day Mildred Boyd. This voyage was almost uneventful. Our ship sailed on through the sea of Knowledge, through the peaceful calm to the much longed for and looked to port of Happiness. We spent a very short but pleasant stay in the port of Happiness, because we were very eager to start on our long and tedious journey. After recoal-ing and supplying our good ship, we were grieved to learn of the calling of five members of the crew to other vocations in life; but indeed glad to know that three new members had signed on to help steer our ship to the port of Fate.

On August 25, 1924, we sailed out of the port Happiness, bound for the port Fate, with achievement added to our cargo of hard work. We learned that Admiral Eutsler had been relieved by Admiral Vance. And again we had new ship officers. Captain Harry Shull was given command of the crew with First Mate Ruth Sherwood and Officer of the Day Agnes Tucker. This part of the journey had its many hardships, sorrows and joys. Our crew was small, our cargo was heavy, and many storms overtook us. This caused many hardships on every member of the crew. Our sorrows were great because two of our crew were left on the half way point. One had chosen another vocation in life and one had listened to the call of the Goddess of Love. And we also learned of the death of the most valiant member of the crew, who had been unable to embark at the port Happiness bound for the port Fate. Our joys were many, because we had had the determination to carry on, and had enjoyed all the happiness of knowing that soon we would drop anchor in the port Fate, there to wait for our ship of Destiny to continue its voyage over the rough and troublesome sea of Knowledge to its final port of Life.

And now, dear members of the class of 1924-25, as members of the crew of the ship Destiny, may you always be as true seamen in the future as you have been in the past, and we shall all meet in the final port of Life with happy hearts and a realization that we have given the best that was in us.

—Ed Weaver.

Senior Class Song

HAIL TO ERWIN HI

There is a banner made of gold and black,
Waving in glory for defense and attack;
Oh, how our hearts to the calls do respond—
For Erwin Hi, Erwin Hi, Erwin to go on.

As we're departing far from your halls,
We'll e'er remember and heed to your calls.
We'll e'er be true to you—
We'll ever fight—
Every son and daughter will fight for the right.

Be strong, oh ye high school;
Hold to your faith;
Teach all the others to stay in the race.
Make them proud of you,
Make them to see—
Erwin Hi, Erwin Hi, why we love thee.

CHORUS:

Oh, Erwin high school, we love you,
Oh, Erwin High School, we'll be true.
We see the best in you—
We love the worst in you—
Oh, Erwin High School, we'll fight for you.

—E. D. M. '25.

The Charge Against Ignorance

(Due apology to Tennyson)

Through each year, through each year,
Through each year onward,
All in the Valley of Learning
Passed a noble band.
"Forward, you heroes brave!
Stand your grounds!" he said:
Into the Valley of Learning
Passed this noble band.

"Forward, the noble band!"
Was there a one dismay'd?
Not tho' a laggard knew
A wise one had blundered.
Ours not to make reply
Ours not to reason why
Ours but to do and die:
Into the Valley of Learning
Passed this noble band.

Education to the right of us,
Education to the left of us,
Education in front of us
Volley'd and thunder'd
Under heavy fire and shell,
Boldly we passed and well
Through the quakes of fear,
Into the gloomy mere
Passed this noble band.

Flash'd our efforts do win,
Flash'd our wits to din,
Stirring the lazy there,
Charging the brave to hear, while
All the world wonder'd:
Plunged in the battery-smoke
Right through the line we broke;
Doubt and ignorance
Reel'd from our bold attack
Shatter'd and sunder'd.
Then turned they back but not,
Not this noble band.

Wisdom to the right of them,
Wisdom to the left of them,
Wisdom behind them
We flung and thundered:
Stormed at with grit and will,
While some gave up and fell,
But we who fought so well
Came through the stage of fear
Back from the age of doubt,
All that was left of us—
Left of our noble band.

When can our glory fade?
Oh, the brave fight we made:
All the world wonders.
Honor the fight we made!
Honor will ever be paid—
Noble, noble band!

Fight that team across the field;
Show them old Erwin's here;
Set the earth reverberating, with a mighty cheer, Rah! Rah! Rah!
Hit them hard and see how they fall;
Never let that team get the ball.
Hail, Hail, the gang's all here,
So let's win this old game now!
Wahoo! Wahoo! for old Erwin.

Erwin Battle Cry

Drive, Drive on down the field,
Men of the black and gold!
Don't let them through that line—
We have to win this game today.
Come on, old Erwin,
Smash through to victory—
We cheer you as you go—
Our honor defend, so we will fight to the end
For old Erwin.

The Booster Club

The Booster Club, composed of seventeen members, is the potential energy of old U. C. H. S. The cause for its existence was the need of a "boost" and—well, it has more than justified its excuse for being! If it's a "Booster affair"—be it banquet, party or whatnot—it's a success!

It is young—very young, yet in its infancy one can feel that it is too deeply grounded in the spirit of U. C. H. S. to be uprooted.

Football

(By "Babe")

The football season of 1924 was one of the most enthusiastic in the history of the school. Those who enjoy the game can never forget the tense moments and feeling of clear cut victories which marked the season and they will remember it as a successful year. Every game was a decisive victory and in no game was there a lack of spirit on the field or on the sidelines. Football was surely advanced in Erwin this year.

Speaking of the games, there were some which stand out far above others. The Central High game will not be forgotten by those who saw it. The game was exciting throughout. Central's well balanced and excellently conditioned team succeeded from the first in gaining consistently through our line; it was their big advantage and they used it consistently. From the first it looked like an early touchdown for Central when an Erwin punt was blocked and "Pinkie" Walden, the Central's team flash, was thrown for losses time after time. The score at the end of the half was 0-0 with both teams fighting hard. Our line, minus Harrison (the "blonde" tackle), functioned well in stopping the heavy Central backs. In the third quarter Babel of Erwin went through for the first touchdown of the game. Copeland then with his magic toe kicked goal for the extra point. In the final period of the game Shull the Erwin's "cyclone" received a punt and with excellent interference raced 67 yards for a touchdown. Copeland again kicked goal. At the final whistle the score was 14-0. Erwin thus won the State Championship—won it cleanly and gracefully, in a game well played and free from all but the best of sportsmanship.

The first game of the season was played away from home with Greeneville. It was a good showing, and from the 74-0 victory the school looked forward to a pennant season.

On the Saturday following the Greeneville game, the team went to Bristol to play Virginia High. The game was lost 13-0, and it seemed as a valuable gauge to the strength of the team. The line especially showed need of improvement and to this end many efforts were extended the following week. This game did not count in our championship record as it was a Virginia team.

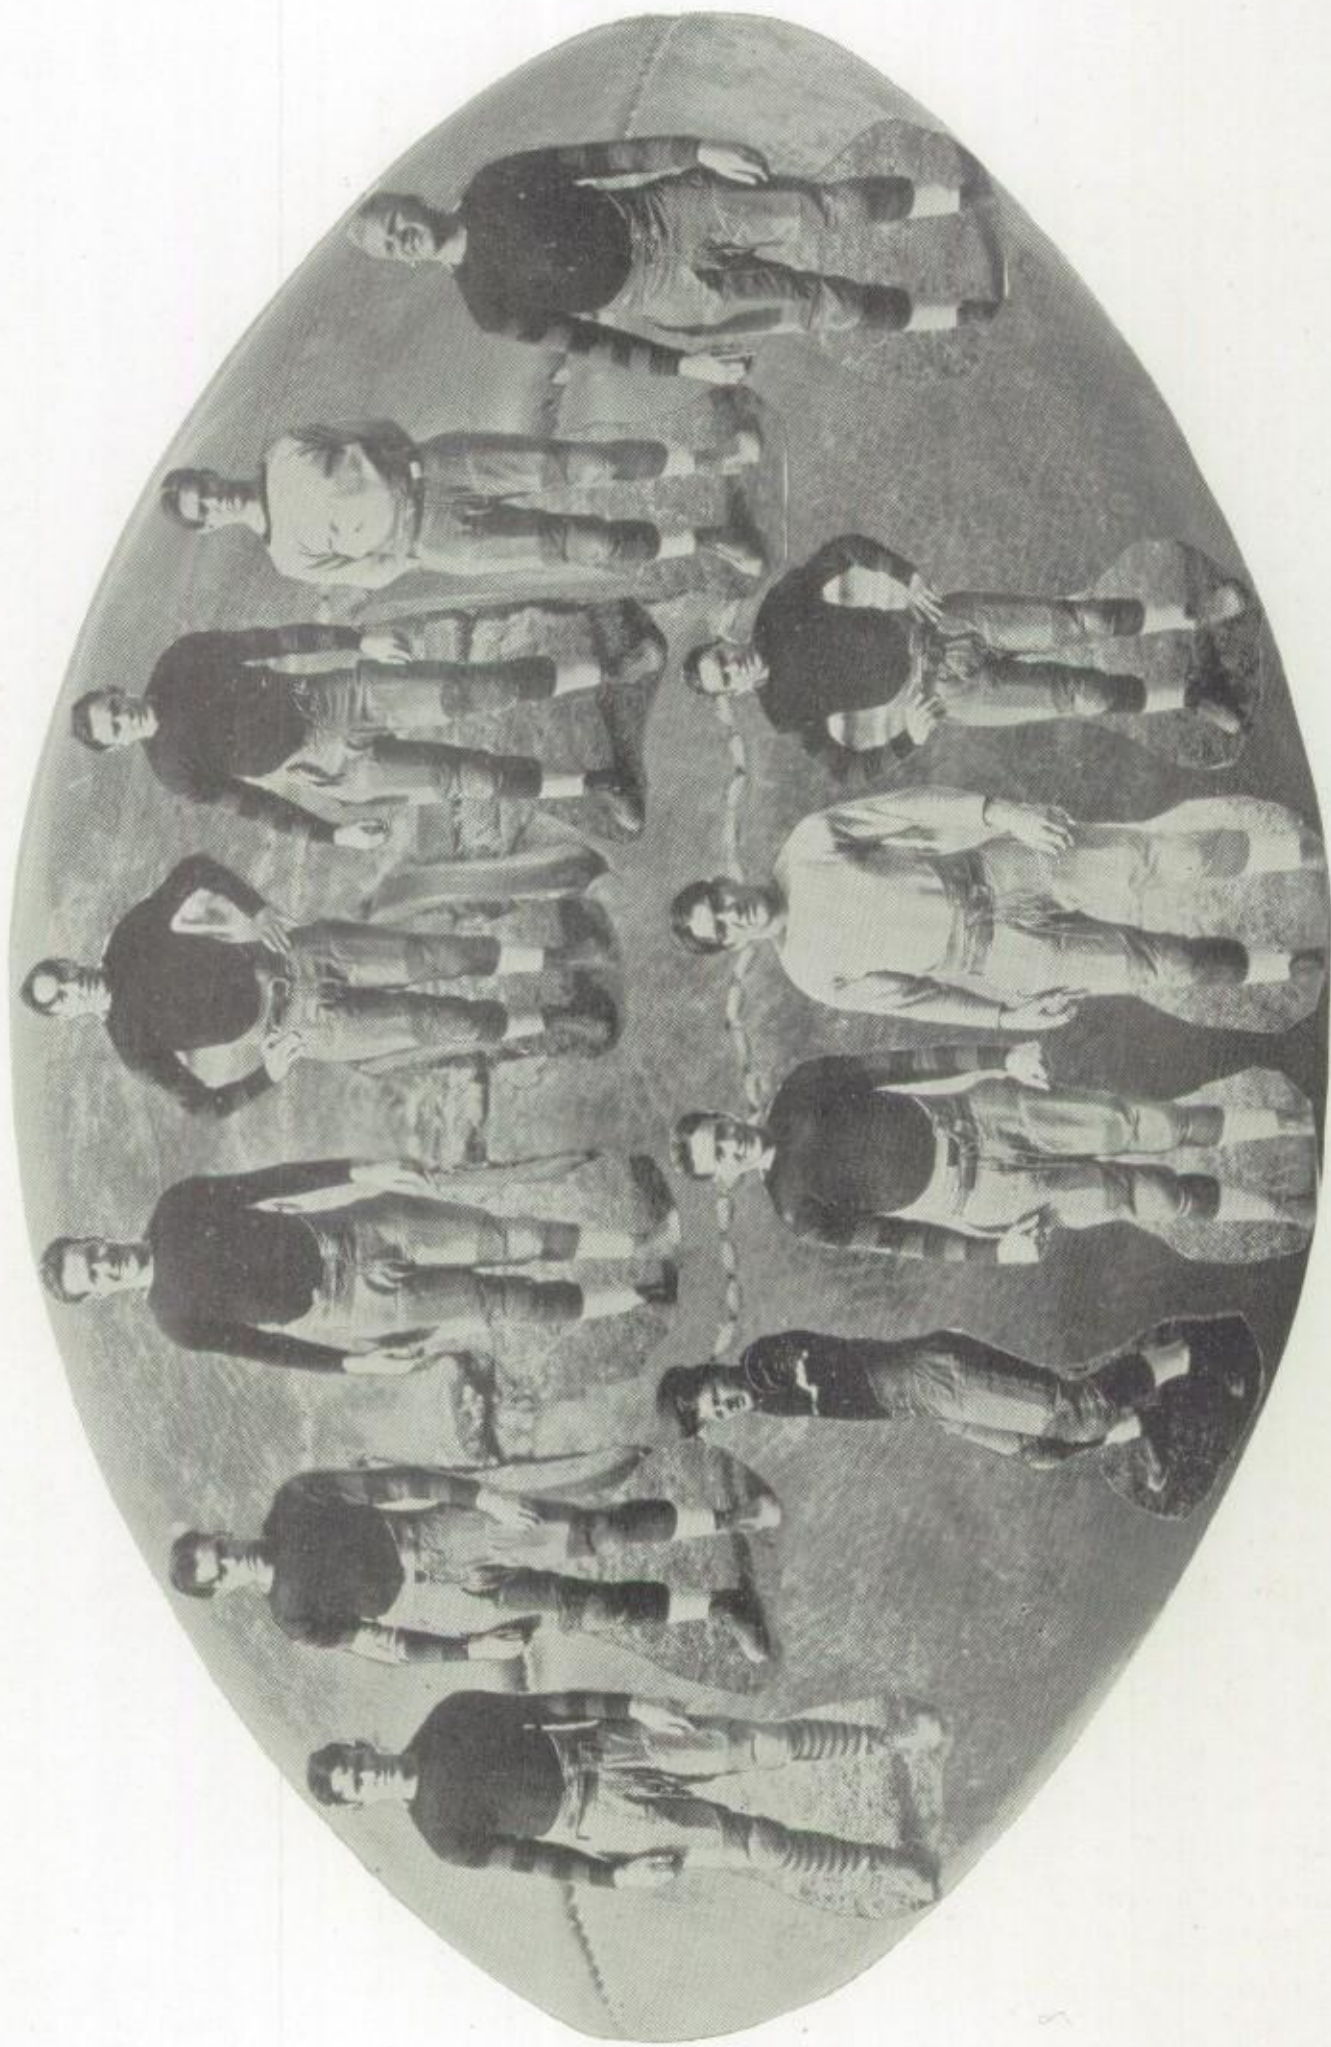

The next game was played at home with Greeneville. Erwin won 48-0.

Bristol, Tennessee was Erwin's next victim. They were quite surprised to be beaten 62-0; and local fans were delighted at the showing of the Higgins men. The line was greatly improved and the team all around showed Championship form.

Morristown was next taken into camp to a 21-0 tune. Erwin again exhibited championship form.

The next game of the season was with Kingsport. The game was a decisive victory for Erwin, as Kingsport refused to play. Thus Erwin claimed Upper East Tennessee Championship.

The following week Erwin played Jefferson City and defeated them to the count of 33-6, which was the first Tennessee team to score on Erwin during the year.

FOOTBALL (Continued)

Erwin next journeyed to Emory, Virginia to play the Emory and Henry Junior Varsity. Erwin played a wonderful game by defeating them 43-0.

Erwin next met her rival, Johnson City. The game was played before a large crowd of fans both of Erwin and Johnson City. Erwin won 20-0, minus three of the regular players, Copeland at end, Smith at full, and Babel at quarter.

Erwin then played Central High of Knoxville for the championship at Knoxville and won 14-0, thus having an undisputed claim for the State Championship.

There were no individual players on the team.

Bailey, at left end, showed skillful playing and much is expected of him next year.

Harrison, the blonde giant, at left tackle, was a valuable asset to the team. He is a stellar lineman and did much to strengthen the forward wall.

Cacy, at left guard, showed some real football and was capable of holding his position.

Dennis, at center, was a bear on defense and his passing on offense was accurate. His kicking on the kickoff was very helpful to the team.

Baughman, at right guard, was never questioned as to his ability. He held his position down capably.

Wohlford, at right tackle, showed some real skill in that position. They always stopped when he hit them. He was chosen captain for 1925.

Copeland, at right end, was a shark at snaring passes, and was noted also for his drop-kicking.

Shull, at half, showed real football ability; he is speedy, well built, and knows the game.

Meredith, at half, displayed some good work. He will be back next year and much should be expected of him. He should develop into a good punter.

Babel at quarter piloted the team well. He is a consistent player and a student of the game. He displayed exceptional ability as a field general.

Captain Barron, at full and half, played some wonderful football. He was a bear on defense and was always in the best of form. He is fast, a good kicker, a line plunger, and has a good knowledge of the game.

Smith, at full back, exhibited some of the best punting ever seen by a high school player, he was a good line plunger, and his passes are accurate.

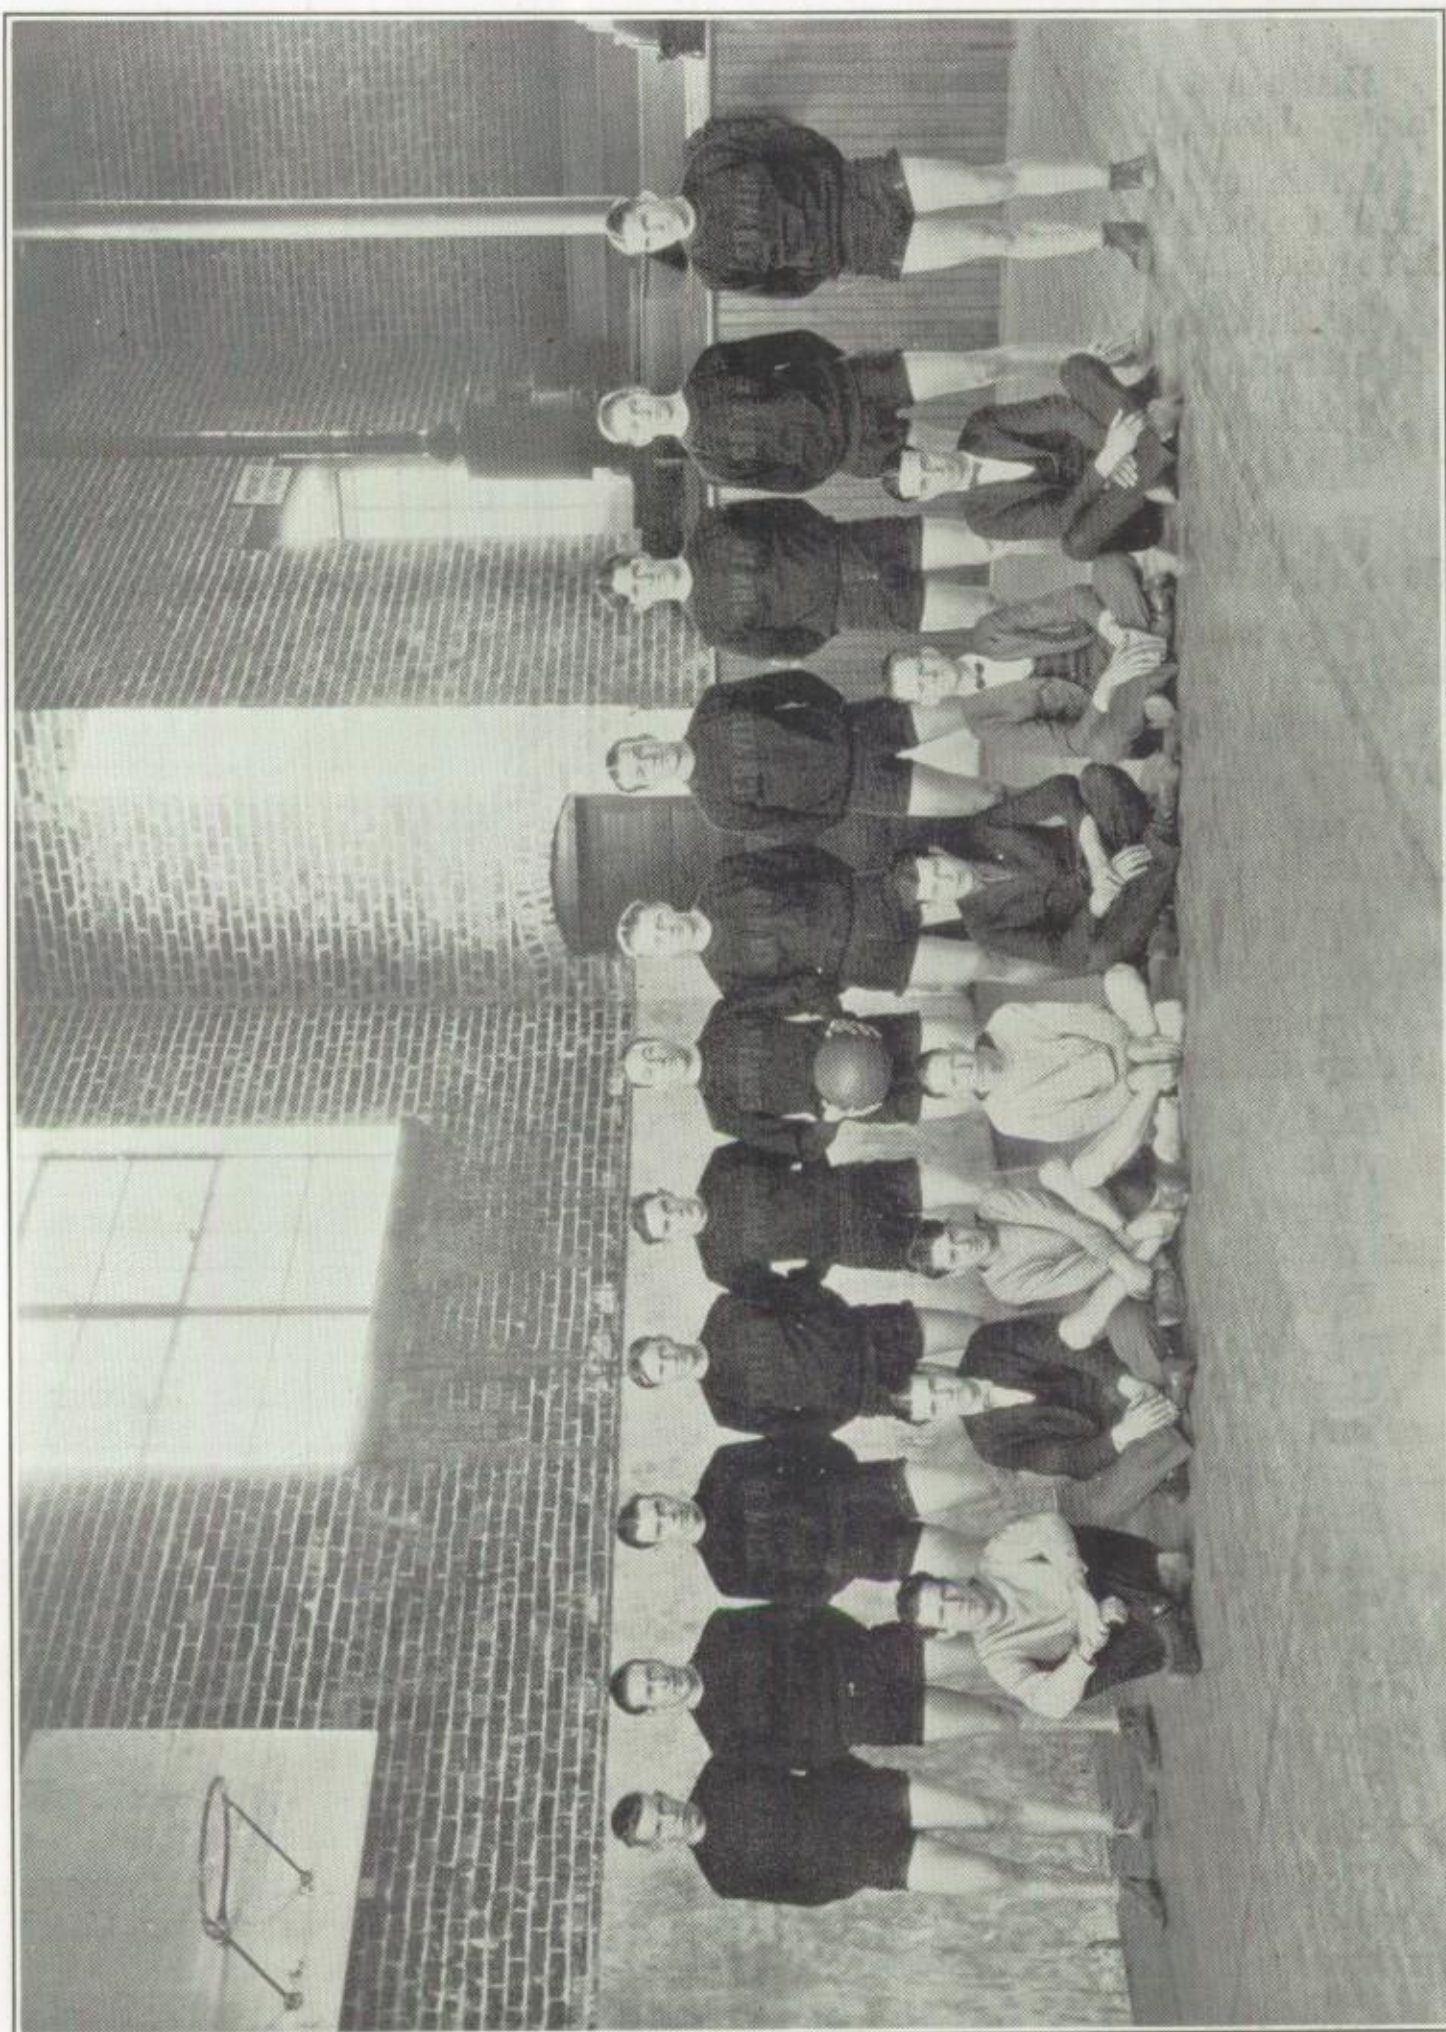

"Pa" Weaver was an all-around player. He started in at half and was then shifted to guard, then tackle, then end. He is a team in himself.

McNabb, at guard, in his first season of football, showed some real fight. He has three more years; he should develop into a good player.

Those who showed ability as players and who were faithful to practice were: Erwin, Phetteplace, Epperson, Belcher, Bailey, Brandt, Duncan and Wright.

Much credit is due Coach "Red" Higgins for the team produced last season. In spite of the fact that twenty-five men were out at the first of the season, Coach developed a championship team.

Eight players graduate this year, but there is an abundant amount of material in the school—so here's hoping that Erwin has another championship team next year.

Basketball

(By "Babe")

It would be hard to give too much praise to the basketball team of the past season. There was not an equal in Upper East Tennessee, and by its brilliant showing at the Knoxville Tournament, Erwin ranked high among the Western teams of the State. The playing, at times spectacular, was altogether well balanced and filled with a gameness that made the entire team stand out as one of superior ability.

The season started with Sulphur Springs who were taken into camp for a decisive victory; the alumni was second—these were the only games in the year of 1924. In 1925, Erwin started out by defeating Elizabethton, then Washington College, and next Bristol, Virginia. We are getting so full-chested that our loss to Tennessee in an overtime period. Erwin then lost to Milligan College reserves, and also to Virginia High. Erwin next journeyed to Spruce Pine, North Carolina, to play two games in a day, defeating Bakersville in the afternoon and Spruce Pine in the evening. Erwin then went to the Upper East Tennessee tournament at Johnson City.

In this tournament Erwin exhibited its best basketball of the season, and also winning the tournament. Erwin played first in the tournament and first defeated Warrensburg, then Church Hill. The next victim to fall before the locals was Boone's Creek, this was declared by all the best game of the tournament. In the finals Erwin played Bristol and won thereby winning the Upper East Tennessee championship.

The Knoxville tourney was next in which Erwin participated. In this tournament Erwin defeated Soddy, Wells Springs, Karns, and we lost to the fast Lenoir City team, in two overtime periods. This game was in the semi-finals. Thus ended Erwins basketball season.

To mention stars would be to name regulars and substitutes. Captain Shull, leader of the team and at forward, deserves much credit for his generalship, and individual playing. "Babe" Babel at the other forward showed up well and was picked on the Upper East Tennessee all-star team and also on Carl Keisters' all-star team. "Cap" Barron at Center displayed some exceptional basketball for a high school player and was also picked on Carl Keister's all-star team. "Gus" Copeland at running guard showed the marks of a real basketball player and also could make a basket when needed. "Lefty" Wohlford, a guard, was the best in East Tennessee high school circles. Of the substitutes who need honorable mention are Dennis, Meridith, Baughman, Bailey, Harrison, Morely, Bowman, McCanless, and Hale.

Coach Higgins needs praise for the team he developed this year, and had they won at Knoxville no telling of what they would do at the State tournament.

Girls' Basketball

The girls basketball team have finished one of the most successful seasons in the history of the school. A splendid spirit backed by good material won them a name in East Tennessee Athletic circles.

The girls started their season by taking Washington College into camp at Erwin to a score of 15-10. This game was valuable as it showed the strength of the team.

The next game was with Elizabethton who were easily defeated by the lassies 28-5.

Erwin next journeyed to Washington College, where the hardest game of the season was fought. The first half ended 10-4 in favor of Washington College. The last half the Erwin girls came back with a rush and played the college girls off of their feet. At the final whistle the score stood 13-12 with the Erwin girls in the lead.

Milligan College was the next victim for our girls. In a hard fought game the college girls were defeated 19-12.

The next game of the season, the girls met their first defeat from the Carson-Newman, "Parsonetts" 26-8. The girls fought hard and could not overcome the lead which the "Parsonetts" ran up in the first half and in the second half allowed only one field goal.

Bluff City next came to Erwin and went home with a 29-12 defeat. Erwin in this game used their entire team.

The Milligan College girls came to avenge their defeat on Erwin but were badly surprised by a defeat of 22-11.

The next games of the year were in the Upper East Tennessee Tournament at Johnson City. The girls were lucky in their drawing and drew their rival Washington College who were eliminated by Erwin 18-12. Erwin next drew Camp Creek who were defeated with practically the second team by a score of 24-14.

By the defeating of Camp Creek put the local girls into the Semi-Finals with Holston. This game was also taken by Erwin 25-14. This put the girls in the finals with Kingsport.

The final game will not be forgotten by those who saw it, and it will go down in the schools history. As the girls came onto the floor you could see the old fighting spirit in both teams. The game started with a rush and each team fought valiantly for the first half in which the score was 16-14. The second half started off with a rush and Erwin evened up the score but could not keep up the pace. Opal Stallard, one of the stellar guards was seriously injured and removed from the game, this was a great loss to the Erwin team, and it slowed their playing considerable. In this final period Kingsport forged ahead and as the whistle blew the score stood 19-28 for Kingsport.

The last game of the season was with the "Parsonetts" of Carson-Newman who defeated Erwin easily by the score of 36-12.

Of the twelve games played by the local lassies, nine were clear cut victories. The total number of points for the opponents was 184 to 230 for Erwin.

The record for the team is due to the able coaching of Coach E. L. Smith with his assistant "Pa" Weaver and much credit is due to them.

The lineup is as follows: Mildred Boyd, F; Elizabeth Harrington, F; Janice Stubblefield, F; Gertrude Love, (Capt) G; Estelle Burgess, G; Lillian Love, G; Subs: Opal Stallard, F; Ruby Morley, F; Esther Willis, F; Ethyl Boyd, G; Adeline Tucker, G; Rose Craddock, G; Myrtle Ingram, G; and Doris Peake, G.

Judge—"Mr. Weaver, why did you strike the telegraph operator?"

Weaver—"Well yer honor, it was just like this: I handed him a telegram for my girl, and he started in reading it. So I up and handed him one."

Proud Mother—"He's getting on so well at school; he learns French and Algebra. Now Bobbie says "How d, ye do to the lady in Algebra."

Haskett and Ralph were puzzling their brains to invent a new game. At last Ralph said, "I know, Haskett, let's see who can make the ugliest face. "Aw, go on," was the reply. "Look what a start you've got."

Mr. Higgins—"Who signed the Magna Carta?"

Basil—"It wasn't me."

Higgins—"Aw take your seat."

Skeptical member of school board—"Here, call him back. I don't like his manner. I believe he did do it."

Inspector—"Miss Wattenbarger, have you any abnormal children in your classes?"

Miss Wattenbarger—"Yes sir, I believe I have—two of them have good manners."

Mr. Vance—"Wade, why are you taking this course?"

Wade—"Er—well, because I am very fond of the subject, it gives one a new insight into the problems which—er—I'm called upon to meet in everyday life. It has been an inspiration to me."

Mr. Vance—"Very good. Now, Mr. Weaver, you tell one."

—"the loss was covered by insurance"

That is the happy ending to so many news stories of fires and other disasters.

The mystery of how the fire started, the fear of its getting beyond control, the valiant efforts of the firemen, cause conflicting emotions in the reader's mind—but the simple statement at the end, "the loss was covered by insurance," brings relief and a greater sense of appreciation for the security which insurance affords.

A missionary in India had the hymn "Rock of Ages" translated into Hindustani, an English student attempting to re-translate it into English produced this illuminating aspect:

"Very old stone split for my benefit, let me absent myself under thy fragments."

The Freshman is naive for he has yet to learn. The Sophomore is cynical, for he has read Dickin's "Fall of two cities." The Junior is worldly for he has tasted of the world and its iniquities; The Senior is sad, for he looks back on his past four years, and is sorry for what he has missed.

August—"Blanche, do you put your heart in your cooking?"

Blanche—"Yes, why?"

August—"Then I must remark, that you must have been very heavy-hearted when you made this cake."

Many thousand school girls responded to an adv. that had appeared in a popular newspaper. The adv. ran: "For one shilling we will send you a recipe by the use of which the hands will become soft and beautiful."

In due time each of the thousand girls received a piece of paper which contained the following words:

"Soak the hands three times a day in dishwater, while mother rests."
